!!Net fact file

- While some competitors are touting an amazing "new" ADSL2+ broadband, !!Net helped pioneer the technology in Australia back in 2004. Now we have the largest ADSL2+ network in Oz able to deliver speeds up to 24,000kpps.
- After a tough start for our Customer Service staff in 2006, the average wait time across our Virtual Contact Centre system is at record lows - under 50 seconds.
- Since 2004, Voice over Internet Protocol (VOIP) has been launched successfully in over 20 countries. Last year, !!Net introduced Australia's first wide-scale VOIP network and in 2006, that network has more than 40,000 subscribers - making it the fastest growing VOIP service in Australia.
- Broadband is moving faster than ever, thanks to more than 3.5 million Australians making the switch. This rapid growth, along with an expanding ADSL2+ network is fundamentally changing the way we use the Internet, allowing more people to access better video, audio and photographic content.
